

SBU DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS &
INSTITUTE FOR MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES

Math Club

Thomas Hales
University of Pittsburgh

How to do without blunders

People have been making math blunders for as long as they have been doing math. This talk will describe some infamous blunders throughout history and what some of us are doing about it. Does it ultimately matter whether we get math right or wrong? Do computers make math more trustworthy, or do they just add an extra layer of bugs?

Wednesday - October 09, 2013
Room Math Tower P-131      1:00 pm